

Wise Age: LOWES

helping Hackney and Tower Hamlets over 50s back to work.

Are you over 50? Want a job?

Live in Hackney or Tower Hamlets?

Then our free Wise Age LOWES (London Older Workers Employment Survival) programme is the answer to your needs.

Recruiting now (from Easter 2021)

Apply now if you:

- Either have been seeking work and on Job Seekers Allowance (JSA) or Universal Credit (UC) for over 12 months
- Or do not claim JSA or UC as a jobseeker but would like to work soon. It may be you are caring for children or elderly parents etc., have ill health or have some other barrier to employment. We will work with you to help you realise your potential.

About LOWES

This project is run by Wise Age, a leading 50+ charity successfully helping older people get back to work or self-employment, or into vocational training. 50% of people enrolled on our employment programmes get jobs. We also campaign on behalf of older working age people against ageism, especially around employment.

We are running our independent programme, LOWES, to support older clients with barriers to employment to help them overcome these barriers and realise their potential. We provide tailored, intensive, empathetic support for recipients.

What We Offer You

- One-to-one advice and support from an adviser who understands the barriers clients are facing and who will walk them through these challenges to help meet them face on.
- Group sessions to help clients regain their confidence and challenge ageism, with mock interviews & application support.
- Help finding age-positive companies who will accept applications from suitable 50+ candidates.
- Help finding suitable vocational training programmes.
- Help with CVs, job applications, interviews, ongoing support for the client and the employer.
- Personal Support and Life Coaching
